She Has Attended 26 High Schools

MISS BARBARA PENNO

By Dorothy Wyman

After having attended 26 high schools, and so many grade schools that she cannot recall the names of them, and having been eight times a senior, Miss Barbara "Blossom" Penno was graduated from the Murray Training School May 29, with a record showing all A's and B's.

Miss Penno has been in 47 states of the Union with her father, a writer of American history, who travels to get local color for his works. She is planning to visit Washington this summer, the only state to which she has not been. She has also resided in Toronto, Canada, for six months.

Miss Penno was born in Providence, R. I. She was tutored by her father until she was able to pass an entrance examination to the fourth grade of Bennett's Private School in Brooklyn, N. Y., where she spent two years. The remainder of her graded school education was received in small public schools in the west.

Because of diversities in the work and methods of accrediting in the different schools she attended, Miss Penno has been promoted and retarded until five years have been required for her to finish high school. At one time she entered school as a senior, having previously been rated as a sophomore; however she did not remain there long enough to graduate.

She entered Murray Training School in September, 1928. She made her letter in basketball here. She is planning to enter college at Murray, when she has finished high school. She now resides with her aunt, Miss Mabel F. Glasgow, health nurse of Calloway county.

Miss Penno has attended high school in Buffalo, N. Y.; Birmingham, N. Y.; Scranton, Pa.; Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; New Castle, Pa.; Kittanning, Pa.; Greensburg, Pa.; Rock Springs, Wyo.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Cincinnati, O.; Providence, R. I.; Fall River, Mass.; New Haven, Conn.; Portland, Me.; Springfield, Mass.; Atlantic City, N. J.; Newark, N. J.; New York City, N. Y.; Brooklyn, N. Y.; Rochester, Pa.; and both North and South Central high schools in Syracuse, N. Y.

"I like Murray better than any other school I have attended," Miss Penno states. "I have made more friends here, and it seems that I am finding some of the things I missed before," she said.

Miss Jones Will Teach in Paducah

Miss Marguerite Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jones, Hazel, Ky., has accepted a position as teacher in the second grade of the Arcadia School at Paducah, Ky., for next year.

Ministering to Unfortunates

Most of us who are sound of body, and have strong legs and arms, give too little thought to unfortunate crippled children. But it is joy to our hearts to know there are those in Mayfield who will come forth with plenty of cooperation and interest in the crippled children's clinic, as they did at the First Methodist Church.

Over a hundred little children were examined. Some of them limped; some came on crutches; others outwardly had no ailments, but were hurting somewhere inside. It wasn't a sad crowd, though. These little girls and boys hobbled around, little conscious of the permanent deformities many of them will carry through life. It was a picnic for them—a sale day—sandwiches, ice cream, milk, cake, and all that. Even on the examining table they were happy. It was a visit to Mayfield, with all the picnic festivities to make the day an enjoyable one.

backs—not today, but several years hence—when the children would be men and women, trying to make a more powerful body in a world which is hard to conquer. They were hoping many of these defective bones could be corrected. And the happiest moments of the day were when fathers and mothers were assured by doctors and nurses that most of the crippled children could be entirely cured, or could be corrected so that their infirmities would not be permanent burdens through life.

It's a great work. These folks in Mayfield who are assisting the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission are rendering a valuable service to humanity. We understand it is a work in which any one can help. Although the Mayfield Rotary Club is assisting in the local end of the work, it is not confined to one organization, but should be supported by the community at large. Each year parents of crippled children are more and more anxious to have their children brought to the clinic. Early in the movement, many parents were reluctant to accept this free medical service; but now that reluctance has been practically eliminated, and the little deformed ones are receiving the attention they deserve—Mayfield men.

WANT to cut car costs? Who doesn't, on occasions! We know how it is... so does Goodrich. That's why, working together, we've got something special to offer you right now.

Goodrich, you see, realizes that all of us like a bargain now and then. But they can't see why a bargain tire can't be a good tire.

So their engineers got together awhile back. Set out to build an outstanding tire at a sensationally low price. A tire that could carry the name Goodrich. A tire that would live up to Goodrich standards on the road.

Result... the Cavalier. Big and husky. Over-size in air cushion. Thicker and tougher in tread. Built to fight off rough roads and high speeds and take its own time about wearing out.

But—built to sell at prices that beat even ordinary tires for real savings.

We've got a full stock of Cavaliers on hand right now. All sizes... including a couple for trucks. And as our contribution to this money-saving party, we're offering them at special prices. Cutting the figures even lower than they usually are.

Come in... see what we've got... and you'll walk out with a nice saving in your pocket!

34 Want Jobs

According to the preliminary census report on unemployment in Murray, released last week by Miller Hughes, Paducah, district supervisor of the census, there are 34 persons in Murray usually working at a painful occupation who are reported on the unemployment schedule as without a job, able to work and looking for a job.

That is far too many for the present condition of Murray and every citizen should take some interest in seeing that these persons are given work. . . . Murray is more fortunate than many of her western Kentucky neighbors in that there is now under the process of construction here three large educational buildings which are involving the expenditure of approximately three hundred and fifty thousand dollars. . . . The Ledger & Times does not know how much labor has been imported by the out-of-town contractors who have all three of these jobs but it would like to place with them to use local labor, both skilled and unskilled wherever possible.

It is a natural inclination for these builders to use men of their own community, whom they know and with whom they have worked.

JUST JOTS

By Joe

One interested in Jots suggests that just one more local club is needed: "Anti-Gossip."

The government reports that there is $37 cash in circulation for each citizen. We are compelled to take their word for it.

Unions College at Barbourville, home of Stimpson and Robison, has been abolished. Too bad. Barbourville is entitled to some good influence.

Joe Grundy spent $322,000 in the Pennsylvania senatorial primary and you and me and every other consumer in this country will help pay part of it through the tariff grab that will enrich Grundy and his ilk.

The house-town merchants of America have not yet started passing the hat among themselves for the benefit of Sears-Robinson who report a decline of 6.1 per cent in earnings for the fifth period this year.

We estimate that about one one-hundredth of one per cent of the racing drivers of America compete in the Indianapolis races. Most of the local colored youth going by a graveyard at midnight.

A negro student at the University of Michigan is joint holder of the world's record for the 100-yard dash in 9.4 seconds. Shucks, but he can't hold a light to some of the local colored youth going by a graveyard at midnight.

The county judge in session at Paducah decided that Kentucky's counties should be merged. But like the rats belling the cat, what counties want to be merged?

Speaking only politically of former Governor Beckham, for whom we have the highest personal esteem and admiration, those few fellows who are touting him for the United States Senate are just like the old-time horse-trader who used to pump a nearly dead horse full of air to make him appear plump and healthy. In Kentucky politics, Beckham is as dead as a do and has too much perception and firmness, we believe, to be misled into confessing to the state of "air-mindedness" which the aviation interests of the country are trying to build up among the people but I must confess that I had about as soon see my son in a high building and jump off to tackle an airplane ride.

There is a reason for my fear of the air complex though I have been on a half dozen flights. My reason for mortal terror of flying is that I was in the air service during the war, about five months of which was spent at an aerial gunnery school training fliers for action on the front, and have seen between 75 and 100 fatalities from flying.

I was just a kid of a boy then and having been in the army for about a year had absorbed some of the hardness that affects every soldier on the front, and have seen him at that time I was not much concerned about taking care of myself. Outside of my parents and sisters, who were not dependant upon me for a living, it didn't bother me just why the popularity of our auto repair service is daily increasing. From the standpoint of expert service we know that the guaranteed work to which we are pledged is everything we claim for it. . . . We remind you that this attention to small points avoids the development of major expenses. 24 hour wrecker's service.

Riches and luxury do not bring happiness. We all know that and yet we strive for them. The happiest people are the hardest people for ease and idleness soften the human race and automatically shut off the very pleasures they are supposed to bring.

Some fathers are wise enough to seek the best educational advantage for their children in preference to a location most favorable for making money. Such a man is John Ross, formerly of Calloway county, now of Conway, Arkansas, who was in Murray last week on a visit to relatives back here.

It is an odd thing that Mr. Ross left the very county which is now the hub of education in Western Kentucky to seek higher educational advantages for his children. Many communities do not realize how many good citizens they lose by failing to develop and maintain proper facilities for educating the youth.

There was ten years ago, before the establishment of the college and before the spread of county high schools, Calloway was back in the ruck educationally and, as the children were fast growing up, Mr. Ross could not wait for the better schools to be instituted.

So he pulled out with his family for Conway and, while retaining some property here, Mr. Ross has taken root in Arkansas, made his friends there and never will come back to Calloway county to live. However, he still retains his interest in and love for his native people. Most of his children are grown now and, well-educated, out in the world making splendid records. It is too bad that Calloway could not have had its splendid college and unexcelled high schools ten years earlier and kept this good family and undoubtedly many others who moved away at that time because our educational opportunities were below the average.

However, we are now on the other side of the citizenship ledger, gaining many excellent families because they find unsurpassed educational advantages in Murray and Calloway county. Other communities are looking to just what we lost to Conway, Arkansas, in the case of Mr. Ross.

It all goes to prove that a good school is one of the best investments a community can have. It beats factories for manufacturing plants merely, provides a superior type of life, while schools and colleges give nurture to the enjoyment of life.

Hoyt Moore, of the Fulton Leader, confesses to a fear of airplanes and explains how he wiggled out of a proffered free flight recently without confessing to the bird man just how scared he was.

I don't like to say anything that would likely be damaging to the state of "air-mindedness" which the aviation interests of the country are trying to build up among the people but I must confess that I had about as soon see my son in a high building and jump off to tackle an airplane ride.

make a hill of beans difference to any body else whether I came back from France or not. In fact, I always figured that $10,000 would be better off with that $10,000 government insurance I carried than he would with me to send the remainder of the way through school.

I never will forget, however, how fearful I was on that first flight I made and how, like Hoyt, I endeavored to cover up my fright. I tried to appear as cool as if making airplane flights was merely a part of every day routine with me.

It was all I could do to keep my teeth from chattering and I remember that I almost choked my tongue to pieces trying to make it appear that I had some chewing gum in my mouth and was nonchalantly chewing away on it and collected as a stowaway.

My decision to take those flights was chiefly made through the idea that if I was too yellow to tackle stuff I ought to be dead anyway. So during the course of that fall I made six or eight flights with test pilots, scared to death each time, but never again so badly as I was on the first occasion.

Airplanes have improved much since those days of 1918 but, the sights of these mangled men and demolished planes always rise before my eyes when I think about taking a plane ride. I believe they will be with me always. I am not a care-free soldier now but a man with a family so I keep my feet on the ground.

My two youngsters, six and three, are simply wild about airplanes and when one comes to town nothing will do but to take them to see it. They talk of nothing else and watch it without any sign of ever getting tired. The oldest is begging me to death to take him for a flight but I put it off by every conceivable means.

One day, of course, he will realize his ambition to take an airplane ride.

Airplane riding reminds me of the story of the negro who was asked if he had ever been up in an airplane. "Mah fest get too proud to walk de street!" said the son of Ham. "Naw, sah, he, not me!"

Letter To Editor
Advises "Stick to the Farm" Royal Oak, Mich.
May 30, 1930.

Dear Editor—and friends of Calloway County:
It is with pleasure that I take some time to write to you folk. I am working for the Kroger Grocery and Baking Co. and have been for the past two years, and for the past week have been receiving strawberries from Paducah, Ky., and of which is the finest berries I ever saw. We are selling these berries for 35c per quart and the Atlanta and Pacific Grocers, 45c. Most of our salesmen are getting 25c per quart but the people just keep calling for Kentucky berries even if they are blather and say: Give me the berries and don't mind the price.

It makes my pulse beat and my blood run hot to know old Kentucky has reached the spot. I get more enjoyment out of pushing these berries than I have done for the last two years. I have been looking and hoping to receive one from old Calloway but have not as yet. I will give you the names of the ones that bridge those berries: R. Reed, Benton, Ky.; R. E. F. McFarland, Calvert City, Ky.; H. C. Purdin, Paducah, Ky.; R. E. I don't know what those men got for the berries but I am getting 25c a quart. Boys are you getting your share of the business? If not why not?

Now is the time to awake if you are asleep and arise and put your shoulders to the wheel and say I am determined to have my share. One thing I want to say to boys, stick to the farm for there is a goal you can reach if you will try and raise good products, but the inferior grade is not worth much. I am bound to drop a few lines to Old Henry county, Tenn. A few days ago I received some sweet potatoes from Glasgow, Tenn., and I am selling them for 7 1/2c a pound. Did you farmers get your share out of those potatoes if you did not there is something wrong and who is to blame? They are fine boys and try and make some more this year better and get more money. I am now bound to say a few words about Old Calloway, a place that I want to see come to the front if there is a place on God's green earth and beneath the shining stars of Heaven that I want to see come to the front it is Old Calloway.

That is the place where I spent my boyhood days of which you all know me and have known me all my life and know I am telling the truth and last fall L. A. Wilson of Hazel, Ky., sent me some of Old Calloway's most precious product, it was sorghum molasses. I could have sold them for $2.00 but I gave them out to the friends of mine to let them know that Michigan is not up to Old Kentucky in many respects. Of course there is lots to see and hear and lots of work going on and if it was not for the employment here and elsewhere you people would not be selling your products as high as you are now. So let's hope and pray work and toil and make Calloway county the Garden spot of the U. S. A. I intend to come home the first of July for a two weeks vacation of which I long to see the most of you people. May God's richest blessing be with you all.—Roggie Oliver, 208 Williams St., Royal Oak, Mich.

I have a patch of corn near the "highway" on land cleared before the Civil war, planted April 22, fully 4 inches high. Folks passing by say "I wonder what that fellow aims to plant there?" Doggone if I ain't peered!—Eagle.

When A CLEANSING MEDICINE Is Needed

"I HAVE taken Black Draught all my life, whenever I need a medicine for constipation," says Mrs. G. C. Burns, of Buna, Texas.

"My mother and father used it in their home for years, and I was raised to think of it as the first thing if I had a headache or was constipated."

"At one time I had indigestion real bad. I was all out of sorts; my skin was sallow, and I had gas pains. After a course of Black Draught, I got all right. I have given Black Draught to my children, whenever they needed a medicine of the kind."

prolong those berries: R. Reed, Benton, Ky.; R. E. F. McFarland, Calvert City, Ky.; H. C. Purdin, Paducah, Ky.; R. E. I don't know what those men got for the berries but I am getting 25c a quart. Boys are you getting your share of the business? If not why not?

Now is the time to awake if you are asleep and arise and put your shoulders to the wheel and say I am determined to have my share. One thing I want to say to boys, stick to the farm for there is a goal you can reach if you will try and raise good products, but the inferior grade is not worth much. I am bound to drop a few lines to Old Henry county, Tenn. A few days ago I received some sweet potatoes from Glasgow, Tenn., and I am selling them for 7 1/2c a pound. Did you farmers get your share out of those potatoes if you did not there is something wrong and who is to blame? They are fine boys and try and make some more this year better and get more money. I am now bound to say a few words about Old Calloway, a place that I want to see come to the front if there is a place on God's green earth and beneath the shining stars of Heaven that I want to see come to the front it is Old Calloway.

That is the place where I spent my boyhood days of which you all know me and have known me all my life and know I am telling the truth and last fall L. A. Wilson of Hazel, Ky., sent me some of Old Calloway's most precious product, it was sorghum molasses. I could have sold them for $2.00 but I gave them out to the friends of mine to let them know that Michigan is not up to Old Kentucky in many respects. Of course there is lots to see and hear and lots of work going on and if it was not for the employment here and elsewhere you people would not be selling your products as high as you are now. So let's hope and pray work and toil and make Calloway county the Garden spot of the U. S. A. I intend to come home the first of July for a two weeks vacation of which I long to see the most of you people. May God's richest blessing be with you all.—Roggie Oliver, 208 Williams St., Royal Oak, Mich.

Brand New Thrills In Gibson Picture

Hoot Gibson cuts loose with a new set of thrills in "Roaring Ranch", starring Universal all-talking western drama which opens at the Capitol Theatre Friday for a two days run.

It's the old Hoot in a bigger and better picture than ever. "Roaring Ranch" is sure fire entertainment. It has never-failing speed and excitement. It is rich in action, comedy, and romance. And it has a plot that never allows interest to flag.

"Roaring Ranch" deals with the efforts of two young men, a rancher and a geologist, to win the hand of a beautiful school teacher. The conflict in love is intensified by a secret oil discovery. With love and wealth both at stake, black villain enters with the result that the suspense is terrific up to and through the smashing conclusion.

"In Gay Madrid" Another Hit for Ramon, Novarro

Ramon Novarro is seen to advantage in "In Gay Madrid", an all-talking and singing adaptation of an old Spanish classic which opens at the Capitol Theatre Monday.

The story concerns the love of a demure Madrid senorita, for Santiago, a dancer, however, endangers the romance and leads to a duel with the brother of the girl he loves.

The settings are magnificently executed and in keeping with the charm and romance of old Spain in which the story is set.

In supporting roles are Dorothy Jordan, Lettie Howell, Claude King, Beryl Mercer, Herbert Clark David Scott and others, all of whom give adequate performances.

Even Marriage Did Not Stop Gilbert Working

"I feel like a kid before Christmas!" Having just completed work on his latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle, "His Glorious Night", a talking production which will open Wednesday at the Capitol Theatre, John Gilbert and his bride, Ina Claire, were about to board the transcontinental airplane at the Los Angeles terminal on the first leg of a three-month honeymoon trip abroad.

"Everyone seemed surprised at our marriage," laughed Jack, "but it didn't come as a surprise to me at all. I just knew it was coming when I first met Ina at that party. I simply met the nicest person I ever knew. It was inevitable that I should ask her to marry me as quickly as possible."

Gilbert and Miss Claire, it is recalled, were wed about three

Kentucky Authors

A. T. Robertson
(By John C. Waters)

Louisville, Ky., is the home of Rev. Professor Archibald Thomas Robertson, one of Kentucky's foremost authors of religious and inspirational books. Mr. Robertson's books have been read all over the world, and the highest compliments are freely bestowed upon his teachers, pastors and missionaries all over the world.

Reverend Robertson was born November 5, 1852, near Chatham, Virginia, the mother state of Kentucky. He completed his high school course and entered Wake Forest College, N. C., and took his M. A. degree from that institution in June 1880. He then entered the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary of Louisville and graduated in 1883 with his Ph.D. degree. He was known as "The D.D." in 1884, received his D.D. from Wake Forest College, and in 1911 he received his LL.D. degree from Georgetown College, Georgetown, D. C.

He was elected professor of New Testament interpretation, and in 1892 he became professor of Biblical introduction. In 1895 he was promoted to the position of professor of New Testament interpretation.

Southern Club Formed at Highland Park Michigan

The "Southern Folk Club" met at 15 Davison Ave., Highland Park, about a month ago, under the leadership of Harry Walker and perfected the "Southern Folk Club" organization, and elected the following officers:

President, Cass Moore; Vice-President, Car C. Harrison; Sec. Treas. Miss Virginia Broach; Cor. Sec., Mrs. Carl Harrison; Wardens Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walker.

The membership at present is composed of people from Kentucky, many of them from Murray and Calloway County, Tennessee, Georgia, Missouri, North Carolina, and West Virginia. West Kentucky is particularly well represented.

The purpose of this club is to foster Southern hospitality, provide assistance, either moral or material to any worthy Southerner, and in general to promote the aims, aims and traditions of the Southland.

Citizens of Detroit and urban cities are interested in this organization and a rapid growth of the membership of the "Southern Folk Club" is forecast.

A second suit was not necessary to test the law. There was no justification for it other than the hope that a decision declaring the act unconstitutional might be rendered in the lower court. The second suit was decided by Judge McCreger exactly as his Democratic predecessor decided the first suit. Such can but mean that both judges excluded from consideration partisan phases, weighed the act in the scales of the law, reached identical decisions as to its being constitutional.

Judge McCreger enhanced public confidence in the law. Whether such multi-

The bureau of dairy industry says that milk produced by sterile cows that are otherwise in good health is just as good as milk produced by other cows as long as it is normal in appearance and flavor.

A Courageous Judge

Those who for partisan reasons anticipated that Judge Thomas B. McCreger, Republican appointed by Governor Sampson to preside over the Franklin circuit court, would give consideration to phases other than the law applicable to the question in the second highway reorganization act suit were disappointed. Those who had confidence in the integrity and intellectual honesty of Judge McCreger were not surprised when he denied an injunction restraining the highway department created under the new act from functioning as such.

When death removed Judge Ben G. Williams from the important judicial position where he had been initiated court action that is to be brought before the court of appeals, Judge McCreger, Republican, was appointed to succeed the deceased Democrat. Republican defendants immediately filed a second suit attacking the constitutionality of the highway reorganization law. Whether such multi-

CHEVROLET'S New Service Policy wins nationwide approval

On January 1st of this year, the Chevrolet Motor Company announced a new service policy—the most liberal ever offered in connection with a low-priced automobile.

Immediately it was greeted with enthusiasm by Chevrolet buyers everywhere—because its many unusual features materially add to the economy and lasting satisfaction of Chevrolet ownership. Briefly, it provides——for free inspection and adjustment at the 500-mile mark, and free inspections every 1000 miles thereafter.

—for free replacement of any material—including both parts and labor—that may prove defective, within the terms of the standard warranty.

—that this replacement will be carried out by any Chevrolet dealer in the United States—regardless of where the owner may have traveled during the warranty period.

County Agent Advises
on Stripped Beetle Pest
Several inquiries have come to the County Agent's office in the past two weeks for information in the control of the stripped beetle which kills the cucumber, water melon and cantaloupe vines.

County Agent, C. O. Dickey says "that Nicotine dust or Black Leaf 40 is the only successful spray material that can be used in killing this beetle. Any dealer handling spray materials should have this in stock."

The stripped beetle is a sucking insect and must be killed by contact instead of stomach poison.

That is the reason that Nicotine of Lead and Paris Green will not kill them. Nicotine dust is a contact insecticide and forms a gas which penetrates the ground around the main stem of the vine where the beetle works.

This same material, that is Nicotine Sulphate or Black Leaf 40 in liquid form is the spray material used in controlling the little bug known as the aphid, which works on the flowers and shrubs.
